New E-Journal of the National Numeracy Network

NUMERACY
Advancing Education in Quantitative Literacy

Editors
H. L. (Len) Vacher, University of South Florida
Dorothy I. Wallace, Dartmouth College

ARTICLES

The Scope of Numeracy by Len Vacher and Dorothy Wallace

Evolution of Numeracy and the National Numeracy Network by Lynn Steen and Bernie Madison

Scientifically Based Research in Quantitative Literacy: Guidelines for Building a Knowledge Base
by Richard Scheaffer

Development of Case Stories by Interviewing Students about their Critical Moments in Science, Math, and Engineering Classes by Vicki V. May, Thomas H. Luxon, Kathy Weaver, Rachel Esselstein, and Cynthia Char

Birds–Dead and Deadly: Why Numeracy Needs to Address Social Construction by Joel Best

To see why we need "quantitative literacy for all citizens", check out what may be "The Worst Pie Chart Ever."

Reported by Joel Best. Located at http://people.howstuffworks.com/prison4.htm
For more on numeracy, go to www.StatLit.org/Numeracy1.htm